

CONSULTANT PROFILE

Jen Reed-Lewis, is a certified senior organizational development professional and leadership coach. Consulting with individuals and organizations, she is a skilled facilitator specializing in leadership development, organizational change and transformation, strategic engagement planning, and building high performance cultures and work teams.

With many years of facilitation, consulting and coaching experience her practice is grounded upon practical but effective techniques to draw the best out of her clients. Equipped with both private and public sector consulting experiences coupled with ongoing education, Jen has a solid background to help leaders strategically position their organizations for higher levels of performance.

Skilled in organizational needs assessment, co-developing recommendations for change, building multiple stakeholder engagement, and facilitating continual organizational learning, Jen focuses her client services in:

Change and Engagement Strategy
Group and Team Facilitation
Leadership Development Coaching and Programs
Multi-stakeholder Collaboration and Engagement
Strategic Planning Processes and Facilitation
Values and Visioning

Prior to starting her own consulting firm, Jen was a senior organizational development consultant at Clarica (a division of Sun Life Assurance Company) and held various human resources leadership roles at Schneider Foods. She holds a M.A. degree in Leadership and Training, a B.A. degree in psychology, a diploma in Human Resources Management, has undergone intensive training and study in various systems coaching techniques and is qualified to administer numerous psychometric assessments and organizational development instruments and tools.

Sample clients include: BC Coaches Association, BC Women's Hospital and Health Centre, Canada Bread Ltd. Canadian Blood Services, City of Vancouver, Clarica, Central Okanagan Divisions of Family Practice, Ditidaht First Nation, Fraser Health Authority, Gymnastics BC, Hain-Celestial, ICBC, IC-IMPACT, Maple Leaf Foods, North Shore Credit Union, Pacific Blue Cross, Royal Canadian Legion, Southpointe Academy, Surrey School District 36, TIC Insurance, Translink, Vancouver Coastal Health, Vancouver Native Housing Society, UBC Faculty of Medicine, and Viasport.

In addition to her Organization Development practice, Jen is an engaged community member involved with the Arts Council, Wellness Collaborative, and Truth and Reconciliation interest groups.

West Coast Approach Consulting Inc.
2490 Spring Beach Drive
Gabriola, BC V0R1X7 jen@westcoastapproach.com
www.westcoastapproach.com
250-247-9872